Suggested Interview Questions:

In an effort to help you prepare for an interview, I put together some suggested questions to make you look like an expert without reading the book.

1. You wrote about a critical point in Jewish history. Are there connections to your personal life?
2. This is your third time-travel novel. What made you choose this genre?
3. When you chose Marius as your main character, you gave him the special martial arts skills. Why is that?
4. What would you like the reader to take away from this book?
5. In the beginning of the story, when Shireen is still a young girl, something horrible happens to her. If you intended to make the reader uncomfortable, you got the job done. Without spoiling the story, what made you write about this?
6. Ancient Judea, a formidable king, and the Maccabean Revolt. An epic moment in history. What made you choose this specific time?
7. When did you first realize you wanted to be a writer?
8. What does your family think of your writing?
9. What do you do when you don't write?
10. How many books have you written? And which one is your favorite?
11. Do you have any suggestions to help me become a better writer? If so, what are they?
12. Where do you get your information or ideas for your books?
13. What would you say is your interesting writing quirk?
14. How long did it take you to write Days of Fire?
